Welcome to Malmö's latest Italian restaurant... for mice!

This wonderful addition to the town has been made by the art collective (group) Anonymouse. It is a temporary work which is made entirely of recycled materials.

There are chairs made from champagne corks, lampshades made from seashells and even paintings made from stamps.

If you like the idea of these tiny artworks, then why not check out Frankie & Benjy's bookshop in Malmö, or Ricotta Records in Lund.

Cost

When Il Topolino was first installed, it was free to anyone passing by.

Facts and Figures

- o Il Topolino was the first of the creations and appeared in 2016.
- o There are now over 30 spread across the globe.
- o The collective has over 147,000 followers across their social media platforms.
